the spectacle. The women upon reaching the east front of the Capitol went to the Senate side of the marble room, where they were greeted by Senators and Representatives. As soon as they had either delivered personally their petitions to their Senators or sent them by messenger, the women went to the Senate gallery, where 30 seats had been reserved for them.

Brief speeches were then made on the floor of the Senate by twenty-one different members favoring equal suffrage. Among those who spoke were Senators Owen of Oklahoma, Ashurst of Arizona, Clapp of Minnesota, Works of California, Smoot of Utah, Lane of Oregon, Poindexter and Jones of Washington, Thomas of Colorado, and others.

At the conclusion of the speeches, Senator Poindexter introduced a bill giving the citizens of Washington the right to vote. The measure bestows the voting privilege upon every man and woman twenty-one years of age and over who is able to read the constitution and who pays a property tax of $5. The bill provides for a delegate in Congress, the establishment of the Australian ballot system, the holding of primaries, and the punishment of corrupt practices. The measure also provides for a Presidential preference primary.

Mrs. McHenry Also Present.

Among the interesting characters at the suffrage headquarters yesterday afternoon, was Mrs. McHenry of Kansas, who has been arrested thirty-seven times for speaking on suffrage without necessary permits. She is now exerting her influence to have a certain Kansas man named Landers appointed postmaster of Coffeyville, and yesterday called upon the postmaster General concerning the matter.

"I have the thing clinched," she said. "There is no doubt but that my man will get the appointment. I am also interested in several other appointments and am now working in the interests of persons who, I think, should receive the positions."

"I was in Alexandria several weeks ago and tried to hold a meeting on the street, but the Mayor came along and threatened to pluck me. Now, as a rule, I don't pay much attention to mayors, but this one looked like he was sick, so I took money on him, and left the community in peace."

Mrs. Gabriel, of New York, representative of the oldest woman suffrage organization in the world—the one established by Susan B. Anthony in 1848—came to attend the demonstration. Caroline L. Reilly, of the Massachusetts Woman Suffrage Association, which was founded by Lucy Stone also in 1848, also is in the city.

Among the most interesting suffragists here is Mrs. John E. Tourner, of the Tennessee Equal Suffrage Association, who resides in Nashville. She is the guest of Mrs. George A. Armes, the prominent local suffrage worker and Democratic enthusiast.

Rhetta Childs Dorr, of New York, who is to be the editor of "The Suffragist," a paper to be published by the Woman's Congressional Union, also is here in connection with the demonstration. She said the first issue of the paper will come out early in October, and explained that the publication will not deal with propaganda work, but will devote its space to accounts of progress being made in Congress in the interests of equal suffrage.

Miss Dorr is an author, and was formerly connected with Hampton's Magazine, Everybody's Magazine, the New York Evening Post, and other publications. She is now a department editor of the Metropolitan Magazine.

Cleveland's Mayor Sees Wilson.

Mayor Newton D. Baker, of Cleveland, was a caller yesterday upon President Wilson yesterday. His visit was purely personal, and was not in regard to patronage in Ohio, it was stated.

Canadian Town Swept by Fire.

Montreal, July 31.—The town of Louisville, Quebec, was swept by fire today. The loss was over $200,000.

R. W. Stewart, secretary of Arlington, Mass., is still burning and smoking. He made without flames.

DETECTIVE HOST AT RICH COLONY

Every Narragansett Arrival Carefully Scrutinized by Officers.

RUMSEY LOSS $120,000

Servant, Suspected of Hannan Robbery, Is Cross-Examined—Plot to Rob All of "400" Frustrated.

Narragansett Pier, R. I., July 31.—Guarded by Burns, Pinerton, and special private detectives, the fashionable ocean road colony of Narragansett Pier is now safe from further attacks by the robber syndicate, which so cleverly looted the summer homes of Mrs. John H. Hannan and Mrs. Charles Cary Rumsey. Every strange boat coming into the pier is being scrutinized by detectives, who are lying off shore in a fast motor boat, and every new face in town is being noted and followed.

The plan to rob the entire colony has been frustrated by the publicity given the Hannan and Rumsey hauls, according to the police, and the main effort is now settled down to the capture of the persons who perpetrated the two big jobs.

Rumsey Gives Up Hope.

Charles Cary Rumsey declared today that he had given up all hope of seeing the jewels returned. He declares that an appraisal has been taken and that his wife's loss amounts to $120,000 at least. He blames himself for permitting her to bring such a vast amount of jewelry to Narragansett, and declares that the robbery will teach a lesson of caution to the society folk of Narragansett Pier and Newport.

Mrs. Hannan in a prolonged rehearsal of the robbery, at her magnificent place "Rhine Acres," has indicated that one of her household is suspected. She exonerates both her maids saying that their worst crime is stupidity. Acting on her story today, the Pinkerton detectives who are trying to recover her jewels, have centered their examination upon one servant and it is predicted that confession may be expected.

OFF ON CRUISES DOWN BAY.

Several pleasure craft leave the city on trips.

Several of the pleasure craft along the Potomac have left for cruises in Chesapeake Bay. The cruiser Habana, owned by Judge Luke B. Strider, of the Municipal Court, left yesterday for two weeks. The launch Dairymaid, owned by George Sullivan, a local attorney, has gone on a short trip. The steamer Angler, which has been in Baltimore for the last ten days, has returned and will be put into service.

A demonstration of the pulmotor was made before Lieut. Dean, of the Harbor precinct, yesterday. The officer stated that if the harbor police had had one of the instruments in the past, hundreds of lives could have been saved. It is probable that the Harbor precinct will be provided with a pulmotor in the near future.

Police Search for Marylander.

Relatives of C. T. Bolton in Deerwood, Md., yesterday appealed to the Washington police to search for him. Bolton has been missing from his home in Deerwood since last Thursday. He is described as being five feet eleven inches tall, weighing 155 pounds, dark complexion, and wears a black mustache. J. S. Bolton, a prominent farmer of Deerwood, is his brother.

Engineer Blamed for Wreck.

Troy, Pa., July 31.—Though no formal public statement has been made, officials of the Pennsylvania Railroad today are placing the blame for yesterday's wreck at this place, when one was killed and eight persons seriously hurt, on the dead engineer, George K. Funk, of Harrisburg, claiming he disregarded a signal.

Motion Picture NEWS

A Daily Feature In The Herald

This daily news feature of The Washington Herald is for the benefit of everybody interested in motion pictures. Suggestions, comments, criticisms, inquiries, and questions invited. Address communications to Motion Picture Editor, Washington Herald.

It will be of great interest to exhibitors, and in fact every one interested in motion pictures, to know that a combination of the "big guns" in film production have formed a new combination to fight the film trust, and the independent, which is the successor to Warner Feature Film Company, and will be known as Warner's Features P. A. Powers, president; A. Warner, vice president and general manager; H. M. Warner, treasurer. The local branch at 60 Ninth Street will be in charge of George W. Smiley, manager. Beginning September 15 next, a regular tri-weekly feature release program will be inaugurated, each feature to be a three-reel subject. This action on the part of P. A. Powers, whose fight with the various interests in the universal ranks is a national concern, would indicate a campaign of aggressiveness by Warner's Features which will keep the different independent producers on the alert as well as anxious to hold their own trade.

A reader writes: "That was an interesting article in The Herald of July 31 on the picture business in Washington."

Another reader writes: "I like your 'live' motion picture news department."

Remember August 3 is the last day to send the Motion Picture editor the name of your favorite "silent player," and receive two tickets to leading motion picture theaters here. Yesterday's "countdown" showed Alice Joyce in the lead with Warren Kerrigan a close second. Name your favorite today.

WIFE HAS HUSBAND ARRESTED.

Says He Robbed Her of $200 and Then Went West.

Claiming her husband, Ephraim Adams, had taken $200 out of her savings, Mrs. Rosalie Adams, a fortune teller, yesterday had the police apprehend him on a train at Terre Haute, Ind. Adams was on his way West, according to his wife, who had a warrant sworn out for his arrest.

The Terre Haute police arrested Adams, and Detective Frank Cornwall left for Indiana to bring him back.

LOSES LONG FIGHT FOR LIFE.

Leighbourne Middleton Falls to Rally Despite Transfusion.

New York, July 31.—Leighbourne Middleton, the young man whose wife and relatives submitted to a transfusion of blood in a vain effort to save his life, died this afternoon at 2 o'clock in St. Luke's Hospital.

Late last night his brother, Malcolm, gave twenty-five pints of his blood in a last endeavor to prevent the inevitable.

The patient's brave fight for life attracted national attention. Mr. Middleton was only twenty-five years old and was stricken with typhoid malaria on his honeymoon, which later developed into aplastic anemia.

STEAMFITTER DIES, FOLLOWING SHOOTING

T. F. Flanagan Succumbs to Wounds Inflicted by J. H. Apperson, Who Is Held for Grand Jury.

Thomas F. Flanagan, a steamfitter of 6 H Street Northwest, who was shot in the abdomen Wednesday night by John H. Apperson, a paperhanger, who lived on the same square, died at Casualty Hospital yesterday.

The coroner's jury, after hearing the evidence in the case, held Apperson for the action of the grand jury. The shooting occurred in Jackson's Alley, but a short distance from the homes of the men. Recently Flanagan was in the Police Court on a charge of disorderly conduct and for keeping an unmuzzled dog. Apperson appearing as one of the witnesses against the defendant. This was the beginning of the ill feeling between the two men, resulting in the shooting Wednesday night.

IN AID OF CAMP GOOD WILL.

Plans Made for Lawn Fete to Be Held at Belmont This Evening.

The proceeds of the lawn fete to be held at Belmont, Fourteenth and Clifton Streets tonight, will be turned over to the fund for the support of Camp Good Will and the Camp for Sick Babies. Many of the prominent business men of Washington have donated from salaries and other retrenchments.

Little damage was done to the grounds by the storm. Only a few trees were blown down, and this will in no way interfere with the arrangements made. The Navy Yard band has been engaged to furnish music for the dancing, which will be held in the Barber mansion.

JAIL FOR STOCK SWINDLERS.

Adam Hoch and Eugene Robinson Sentenced for Frauds.

New York, July 31.—Federal Judge Ray today imposed aggregate sentences of twelve and a half years and fines of $2,000 on Adam Hoch, and nineteen years and fines of $3,000 on Eugene B. Robinson, who were recently convicted of defrauding investors out of close to $500,000 in the selling of stock in the American Tanning Company. Henry W. Parker, who it is alleged, got most of the money from the stock sales, fled to Europe after his indictment.

The sentences will be served concurrently, the judge fixing different terms of imprisonment and fines for each of the four indictments on which the two men were found guilty.

TREES DESTROYED OR DAMAGED TOTAL $0,000

More than $4,000 trees were seriously damaged or destroyed by the storm, according to an estimate made by officials of the city parks and streets department. This estimate was confirmed by the police, who said that $5,000 trees had been stripped of their branches or uprooted in the Eighth precinct.

It will take more than a week to remove from the streets the trees and parts of trees that were torn down. The government parks, some of them almost destroyed, are to be rapidly cleared of the debris. One hundred and fifty trees were destroyed and 400 will need expert treatment if they are to be saved, in the parks under the supervision of the United States government.

Incidentally, to repair the damage to the trees by replanting them with trees as beautiful would cost probably twice as much as was "estimated" by an afternoon newspaper to be the total damage done by the storm in the District.

The President has received many requests in answer to an order he issued yesterday that wood from the twenty trees in the White House grounds, which were uprooted, should be given to the poor for firewood.

These trees were all past redemption. Expert tree "doctors" will be called upon to save the Hayes elm, planted by President Hayes. It is thought that by using jacks to raise the tree, which fell against the north portico of the White House, its life can be saved. Efforts will be made to replant the tree.

Jolly Old Hamlet.

The Daily Mail headed its paragraph describing Sir J. Forbes-Robertson's farewell "Our Holy Hamlet," and wound up with the statement, "The audience sang 'He's a Jolly Good Fellow.'" We believe that this is the first time the melancholy Dane has been so described.

"The man who condemns or turns down any proposition without having first acquainted himself with all the details relating thereto, condemns his ignorance and stupidity."

—Marshall Field.

MR. FIELD was mighty pointed, and yet if in his day a man was stupid who turned down any old proposition, how utterly reckless and indifferent to his own interest would we consider the man of today who, without quizz or query, turned a deaf ear to a keen business bargain—a choice chance—a safe play on a straight-from-the-shoulder money investment. Marshall Field, in the heyday of his success, never knew such an opportunity to turn over a few dollars quick, and on such equitable terms as we offer in our

Lansburgh Furniture and Carpet Co.

Storm Damages Furniture

During the storm Wednesday afternoon many of the windows in our building collapsed, and the rain blew in on hundreds of fine pieces of furniture. The wood in every piece is as good as new, but the varnish is slightly spotted. We are offering these pieces at enormous price reductions in order to save the cost of refinishing. All the furniture in the front parts of the fourth to the ninth floors, inclusive, was affected by the storm, and is offered at the lowest kind of prices.

Below are some of the items, but besides these there were 45 rugs, 18 bales of carpets, and many pairs of portieres damaged by the storm. We have not ascertained the damage on these goods yet, but they will be on sale at lowest prices also.
